Q.4 Do you have any feedback that you would like to share with us?

Please see below a summary of the responses we received and actions the school will take to address these:

Of the surveys completed 75% of TY students acknowledged that their motivation for school work is low and that they are missing the social interaction with peers

Response: This is naturally a challenging time for students. We understand how difficult it is to work remotely and at this age to not spend time with friends. We are always here if students have any concerns or need to speak to someone in the school. Please remember and make use of the supports within the school – our Guidance Team, school counsellor (Annmarie Johnson), Year Head (Mr Coy) and the Management Team. We enjoyed meeting our TY students before midterm over zoom and we look forward to welcoming them back into the school, hopefully after the Easter break. The half day before midterm was welcomed and we will continue to monitor this going forward..

‘I am a bit disappointed that some of my class mates have failed to attend Zoom calls as it can feel a bit disheartening’

Response: We hope to encourage students (where possible) to keep their cameras on so that the live class can feel more interactive and students can see their classmates. Depending on the subject and nature of the class this is not always possible but where the teacher asks for cameras on, we ask that you please participate

‘Too much workload’

Response: It can be difficult to balance the workload from each subject and teacher. All you can do is their best with the resources you have at home. We ask that students please communicate with their teachers if they feel the workload is too much. It is important that you manage their time effectively by using your free classes to take a screen-break, get some fresh air, exercise. This will hopefully help to replenish your work throughout the day.
